Storage Device

This displays where the system is looking for ROMs and other user data.

You can host your games on the internal storage or via a USB drive. The arrows on both sides of word “USB” or “Internal” indicate where the system is looking. You can easily change this by hitting left or right on the D-pad.

If things go wrong when you have ROMs stored on a different USB system than your system, you can take a look at this page to help you fix it.
